HERMAN BELL MEETS HORRIBLE FATE

HEAD IS COMPLETELY SEVERED FROM BODY BY A Q. & C. FREIGHT TRAIN.

Herman Bell, a young white man of Waynesburg, was killed at King's Mountain at an early hour Sunday morning by a freight train, his head being severed from his body.

In company with a brother, the deceased had gone to the depot with the intention of jumping the first train that came along and riding to his home at Waynesburg. They had waited but a few minutes when a freight came in and Herman Bell attempted to board it. The train was making rather fast time and he missed his footing and fell beneath the truck. His brother tried to rescue him, but one car had passed over the unfortunate man before anything could be done and death was instantaneous.

Herman Bell was about 26 years of age, unmarried and had but recently moved with his parents into the Waynesburg section, where his body was taken for the interment, which occurred there Monday afternoon.

The verdict of Coroner George P. Bright's jury was in substance that the killing was the result of the boy's own recklessness, and that the railroad company was in no way to blame.

Arm Cut Off by Car

STANFORD BOY BADLY CRIPPLED BY BIG FOUR TRAIN

C. D. Murphy, a former Stanford boy, and son of Mr. W. L. Murphy, of this city, and who married Miss Bessie Martin, of this city, was severely injured on the Big Four railroad near Wabash, Indiana, a short time ago. He is a brakeman on the Big Four. A Wabash paper describes the accident in which the young man lost his right arm, as follows:

O. D. Murphy, a Big Four brakeman, was frightfully injured while on his run at North Manchester Wednesday evening and as a result he has lost his right arm, the member being amputated at the shoulder.

Murphy was on what is known as the "pick-up" run which works between this city and Elkhart every night, leaving Wabash late in the afternoon. At North Manchester the crew engaged in switching for some time and then resumed the run north. Just as the train was pulling out of the town, Murphy started down a side ladder of a stock car to look after some stock, and the grip bar either pulled out or Murphy lost his footing and fell to the track. Realizing that he was in great danger, the brakeman had enough presence of mind to push himself from the car but in falling to the ground his arm went under the wheels.

The right arm was horribly mangled from the fingers to the elbow and it was impossible to save the member. Murphy arose just as the train passed him and he waved his left hand at the rear brakeman who was on top of the train. Releasing the air, the train was stopped and the injured man was assisted to the caboose. The engine was cut off and coupled to the caboose bringing Murphy to this city. He was taken to the hospital where his arm was amputated just below the shoulder. This morning Murphy is resting as well as could be expected, and the physicians state that unless complications arise, he will recover.

Murphy has been working on the Big Four for three weeks, having come here from his home at Stanford, Ky. His wife was notified of the accident at once and arrived in Wabash over the Big Four this afternoon.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH STANFORD?

TOLD BY EVANGELIST DANIELS. MEETING WILL PROBABLY END TONIGHT.

The revival services which have been in progress at the Baptist church, will probably close after the services tonight. Interest has grown in the services, the attendance has been good and earnest sermons have had an earnest hearing by the people.

EVANGELIST J. C. DANIELS

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon the church was well filled to hear the lecture on Ben-Hur. Just before the lecture, "The Holy City" was sung by Miss Winnie Davis Bibb. In a clear, sweet voice, she rendered the selection to the delight of everyone present.

Mr. Daniel's narration of Gen. Wallace's "Tale of the Christ," was concise, vivid and inspiring. For more than an hour the speaker held his audience to the thrilling experiences in the life of Ben-Hur, and fired their hearts to emulate the noble principles in Judah's life. He held that the throwing of Arius' signet into the sea meant more in Ben-Hur's life than anything connected with the chariot race.

Asked his opinion, of Stanford, from a religious standpoint, the evangelist said:

"Stanford has many good people and quite a number of noble, humble, faithful followers of Jesus Christ. However, since you expect the truth, I will tell it. Pride, love of money, love of worldliness and prejudice have combined to sap the spirituality of your town. Christian pretension, which has not been lived out in daily walk, has weakened the real Christ influence. Gambling around a stylish card table in a fashionable parlor is every whit as bad in God's eyes as that of the black leg professional in the back of some dive. I fear, too, that there are people here who would do much more for the sake of their church than they would do for Jesus Christ."

Lecture on Civic Righteousness

At the request of a number of the citizens of Stanford and vicinity, Mr. Daniel has consented to deliver his lecture on Civic Righteousness before leaving the city. The Christian church has been secured and the lecture will be given tomorrow (Wednesday) night at eight o'clock. The lecture will interest every citizen of the community and everybody is invited.

Noble Young Man

BROTHER OF MRS. R. M. NEWLAND PASSES AWAY

The sad news was received here last week of the death at Louisville of Thomas A. Elkin, brother of Mrs. R. M. Newland, of this city, which occurred after a long illness on Wednesday evening. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Newland, of this city, and worked in the Interior Journal office years ago.

Mr. Elkin was just in the prime of young manhood and his death came as a great shock to his host of friends and loved ones. He held a responsible position with the Tinsley-Mayer Engraving Company. Besides his parents and his sister, Mrs. Newland, he is survived by two brothers, W. Lee Elkin and Walter B. Elkin.

The remains of the young man were laid to rest in Cave Hill cemetery, after funeral services at the Clinton Christian church, of which he was a member.

induced by violent exercise or injury is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism and always affords quick relief. Sold by G. L. Penny.

POPULAR COUPLE WED IN DANVILLE

JAMES T. MENEFEE CLAIMS MISS JEAN WARREN AS HIS BRIDE ON SATURDAY.

There was much pleasant surprise occasioned last Saturday when James T. Menefee, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Menefee, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Jean Warren, daughter of Mrs. William Warren, and a niece of the late Judge R. C. Warren, of this city. The young couple had kept the happy secret well, and only a few of their relatives and closest friends knew of the forthcoming event and were present.

The ceremony was solemnized at the handsome home of the bride in Danville, Rev. J. T. Hoskins, pastor of the Baptist church, of this city, officiating. Immediately afterward they left for a bridal tour to northern resorts, and returning, will make their home in Danville, out of which Mr. Menefee will travel for the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company, of which he is the southern representative.

Mr. Menefee is one of the most popular "boys" of Stanford, and will be most heartily congratulated upon winning such a splendid woman for his wife.

She is very well known here, having frequently visited her cousins and is universally beloved and admired.

Among those who went over from here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Menefee, Judge and Mrs. E. B. Ritchie, of Mineral Wells, Texas, Judge J. M. Menefee, Jr., Mr. George Menefee, Misses Jennie, Neill and Josephine Warren.

In Far Off Canada

KENTUCKY BRIDE IS HANDSOME LY ENTERTAINED

The Rossland, Canada, Miner has this item of a handsome entertainment given there in honor of Mr. C. C. Leete, of Davenport, Wash., and his bride, who was Miss Margaret Livingston, of Crab Orchard, before the wedding a few weeks ago:

Claude Leete, of Davenport, Wash.,

son of Mrs. A. T. Collis of Rossland, and his bride, have met with a true Rossland welcome during their stay here. Mrs. Collis holds a reception in their honor today and they have also been most pleasantly entertained by Superintendent and Mrs. Anna

Burnett, at their handsome home at the Josie mine just above the city.

Mrs. Claude Leete is a Kentucky lady and Mrs. Burnett, too, belongs to one of the oldest colonial families of the south, both in Kentucky and Virginia.

Needless to say the two southerners had much in common and a delightful time was spent by the visitors.

PREACHING AT HUBLE

Rev. Samuel Pittman will preach at the Huble Christian church Sunday the 10th at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Everybody invited.

Parksville

Mrs. Jack Minor, of Bradfordsville, is visiting Mrs. J. D. Minor. Mr. S. Caldwell, of Louisville, is a guest of his son, Dr. J. E. Caldwell. Mrs. Annie Parks is visiting her brother T. T. Durham at Lebanon. Mr. John Walls is at Olympia Springs taking the treatment for rheumatism. Mrs. Carlisle T. Cleland is visiting her father, J. F. Gregory at Springfield. Mrs. Mary Bower and Mrs. Bettie Caldwell attended the funeral of Mrs. John A. Bower at Paris last week. Benjamin Boling sold to Mr. Wilson, of Henderson, a two-year-old Gambetta Wilkes colt for $250. John W. Webb shipped a car of hogs from Mitchellsburg last week for which he paid $14 c. Prof. Jack Wilson, of Bradfordsville, is visiting H. D. Cozatt. He will teach this year at Lebanon Junction. Messrs. Luther Underwood and wife of Danville, and W. H. Rigney and family, of Stanford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Underwood last week. W. S. Rose, of this city, is holding down a good telegraph job at Arlington, Tenn.

Desha Breckinridge, of the Lexington Herald, who is much more of a mugwump than a Democrat, declines to support Campbell Cantrill for Congress in the Seventh as the Democratic nominee. We may agree with lots of the distinguished editor says on some of the questions involved, but the essence of democracy is rule of the majority. When the majority has spoken, we are always willing to abide by the result. We believe in the losers taking their medicine like little men, and come up shouting for more. If that spirit would always hold in the ranks of the democracy—as it always does with the republicans for whoever heard of a republican bolting, why we would win lots more victories than we do.

Tired of life at 17 years, William Edwin Shikle, a clerk, swallowed a quantity of morphine at Memphis, Tenn., and died within a short while. "My life has been a complete failure," the youth explained in a note. "I have met defeat at every turn. I have failed miserably."

In a letter to the Secretary of the Republican Club of Utica, N. Y., Col. Roosevelt requested that a movement to have him nominated for governor be stopped, as it would be an absolute impossibility for him to accept.

Now that the first carnival at Reno is over, Roosevelt will get on the front pages of the big dailies again.

ITCH RELIEVED AT ONCE.

That terrible itch disappears with the First Drops of a simple compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine mixed in D. D. D. Prescription. This soothing, healing lotion, used externally, kills the eczema germs instantly.

Heretofore the D. D. D. remedy has been sold only in $1 bottles; but as a special offer, any sufferer in this town who has never tried D. D. D. can now try this remedy in a special bottle at 25c. It cures the itch instantly. We know this. Sold by Shugars & Tanner.

WITHOUT AN APOLOGY!

It may look unbusiness like to some merchants to sell such desirable goods at a loss right at the beginning of Summer season, but we believe it is in perfect harmony with sound business principles to hold these semi-annual unloading sales.

The accumulations of broken lots and short lengths must be sold, this is our method, and now is the time to do it. Therefore we have no apology to make for this feast of bargains to our host of customers in this and surrounding vicinity who have learned to look and wait for this store's great sales.

Those who have attended our former sales know that every article and every price is as represented in this ad. In addition to the cut prices mentioned we will give a reduction of ten per cent on any article in this store. We are not professional ad writers and have to depend on facts and figures to get you to our store. Below you will find the articles and prices.

HOME OF NEW AMERICAN OPERA

Cincinnati Music Hall, pictured above, will be the scene of the first production of the new popular romantic opera, "Paoletta," especially written for the Ohio Valley Exposition, and to be given its first performance on Monday night, Aug. 29, on the opening day of the Exposition.

BOTH ACCEPT INVITATIONS

President Taft and Col. Roosevelt at Ohio Valley Exposition.

OTHER NOTED MEN TO ATTEND

Governors of Various States and
Mayors of Cities of the Ohio Valley
Promise Support to the Enterprise and Express Their Intentions of Visiting Cincinnati During the Great Exposition.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— While no foreign potentates or visitors of royal birth have as yet announced their intention of attending the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held here next fall, a sufficient number of acceptances to invitations have been received from noted men of America to make the absence of foreign nobles felt not at all. One of the first promises to attend the Exposition from men of international reputation was received from President Taft, who, besides praising the objects for which the Exposition will be held, declared his intention of spending at least a week in Cincinnati during the time of the progress of the big industrial enterprise. Following the acceptance of President Taft came others from Governor Deneen, of Illinois; Governor Harmon, of Ohio; Governor Glasscock, of West Virginia; Governor Marshall, of Indiana; Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, and Governor Wilson, of Kentucky. Later came assurances from all the mayors of the cities of the Ohio Valley, promising their support to the enterprise and expressing their intentions of coming to Cincinnati to spend some time during the Exposition.

Within the past few days another trump card has been played by the Exposition in securing the promise of Former President Roosevelt to come to Cincinnati during the time of the Exposition. Colonel Roosevelt is desirous of coming here for several reasons. It was his great-uncle, Nicholas Roosevelt, who built the first steamboat that navigated the Ohio river, she being launched just 100 years ago—in 1810—and it being partially in commemoration of this event that the exposition is being held. It also was in Cincinnati in 1902 that Colonel Roosevelt, then president of the United States, made his first public official declaration in favor of improvement of inland waterways, a plan of conservation which has resulted, among other things, in the building of the Fernbank dam in the Ohio river, near Cincinnati, the completion of which also will be celebrated by the Exposition. It is expected that Colonel Roosevelt will spend several days in the city during the Exposition as the guest of his son-in-law, Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

FAMOUS POTTERY MAY GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS

Cincinnati, O.—(Special.)—Efforts are being made to have the Rookwood Pottery, Cincinnati's famous home of ceramics, place a working model in the Ohio Valley Exposition. It is the boast of the Rookwood management that it produces no duplicates—that every piece of art ware produced by its associates is an original. If this display is made, it will show how the various kinds of vases and other pieces are fashioned, and it is believed that arrangements can be made by which prospective buyers may be allowed to place their autographs upon such pieces as they may select and have them decorated, glazed and produced later on. This practice has been pursued with a number of noted actresses and actors who have visited the Rookwood Pottery, including Mme. Schumann-Heinck, Eleanor Robson, Madame Modjeska, E. S. Willard and others, and it is believed that it would add much to the attractiveness and general interest of the ceramic display at the Exposition.

SOUTH'S CORN EXHIBIT WILL CREATE FUROR

One of the Big Features of the Ohio Valley Exposition.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— The general impression that the Middle West has a monopoly on the raising of corn promises to receive its quietus at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24. In assembling the industries, products and resources which will make up the Southern exhibit at the Exposition, the representatives of the various railroads in the South are giving particular attention to securing examples of the South's natural wealth of which the outside world knows little or nothing. And working along this plan, special efforts are being made to secure a large and classy exhibit of corn grown in various sections of Dixie, with the idea of impressing visitors to the Exposition that the South will grow anything that any other section can produce, and in just as high quality. For some years the matter of experimenting with the growing of corn has been progressing in the South, with the result that experts now boldly announce that with proper application and the employment of up-to-date methods of cultivation, the South can be made the greatest corn-producing section of America. Reports from the Department of Agriculture in Washington give interesting figures on this experimental work. In South Carolina a boy, devoting all his time and knowledge to corn planting and cultivating, succeeded in raising 152½ bushels to the acre in a section where the average yield was but 16 bushels per acre. In Virginia nearly 1,000 acres were planted and cultivated under improved methods, with the result that an average yield of 41 bushels per acre was secured. In Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas similar good results have been obtained by scientific cultivation, so that it is a reasonable estimate to make that 45 bushels to the acre can be secured with proper care and attention. Many cotton planters are turning to other staples as part of their annual crops because of the blighting work of the cotton boll weevil, and those who have taken up the growing of corn are finding that it promises more than any other product. The display of Southern-grown corn at the Ohio Valley Exposition promises to be comprehensive and of excellent quality, and those assembling this exhibit declare that it will compare in every way with the best examples that will be offered by growers of the Ohio Valley or the prairie states.

POWER BOAT OF CONCRETE NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— What probably will be the first boat built of concrete navigating by its own power will soon be constructed in this city for use on the Miami and Erie canal during the Ohio Valley Exposition, which opens Aug. 29 and closes Sept. 24. This boat will be built on plans devised on information received from the United States War Department in regard to the construction of barges of concrete for use on the Panama canal work. It has been found that barges of this kind can be constructed more economically than wooden barges, and that they are just as easily handled as ordinary barges, with the advantage that they can be more readily cleaned of sea parasites than wooden barges. The method of construction is similar to that employed in erecting concrete buildings, in that the concrete is spread over wire framework, making a perfectly rigid and waterproof surface throughout.

It is planned to utilize this boat to tow pleasure barges, also constructed of concrete, on the canal during the Exposition, the barges to be brilliantly illuminated and each supplied with musicians, a sort of continuous water carnival being thus inaugurated, the beauty of which will be augmented by the canal and brilliant illumination.
